Morzine is one of 12 resorts in the massive Portes du Soleil ski area, which spans the Franco-Swiss border. With 52 hotels and 41 bars and restaurants, it's a concentration of vacation facilities, but still manages to pull off that authentic mountain village feel. When it comes to the slopes, Morzine is a fine destination for beginners and intermediate skiers, with an abundance of gentle pistes. It's also a good place from which to explore the Porte du Soleil's many off piste options if you're feeling adventurous. Lifts lead directly up to these areas, which mean less hiking and more skiing. Freestylers, however, may want to skip Morzine and head to neighboring Avoriaz.

Morzine, the village is sandwiched between Les Gets and Avoriaz. The Portes du Soleil Pass covers 278 pistes., There are runs for skiers up to advanced level, or for anyone who just wants a gentle, relaxing ski run. Plus, many of the Morzine-Les Gets pistes run through forested areas, making for a pleasant backdrop to a quiet ski day. As for Avoriaz, the pistes are higher up, so the now quality is better and the runs are much longer. The Portes du Soleil Pass will open the way to 106 blue runs, 100 red runs, and 20 challenging black runs.
